Capture The Movement Contest
Movement influences our lives and everything around us. Movement can be deliberate or incidental, it can be random or predictable. Help us capture how movement influence health by submitting your visual art project by 11:59pm on October 22 (new deadline). Enter your photography, video (3 minutes max), drawing, or painting to capturethemovement2018@gmail.com for your chance to win a $250 first place prize! This contest is open to all University of Florida students and the winner will be announced on October 29th during our One Health Day event at Smathers 100!

Please visit the link to watch a lecture on One Health by Dr. Ilaria Capua.
